

Knowles To Head Rec Association

In the race for the presidency of Recreation Association, Elizabeth Knowles, of Atlanta, defeated Glynise Smith, 379 to 204. Elizabeth has been a member of Rec Association for three years, and was treasurer one year. She was president of her freshman class, vice-president of the band for two years, dormitory secretary of Bell Hall last year, and vice-president this year. She is at present also a member of the Health, Physical Education, Penguin, and Tumbling Clubs.

In competition for vice president, Kate McKemie of Ft. Gaines, was victorious over Marion Nelson, with a margin of 444 votes.

ELIZABETH KNOWLES to 138. Kate has been with the Rec Association three years, and has held positions on both the Executive Board and General Board, and as Publicity Manager of the Association. She has been a member of BSU Council, Aeolian Glee Club, and Citizenship club. She is now in Tennis, Tumbling, and Physical Education clubs.

As corresponding secretary, Rosalyn Bynum of Claxton, defeated Henri Sims, 338 to 241.

Rosalyn is now a member of Granddaughters club and Penguin club and has been a member of Rec a year. She was a member of General Rec board the last part of last year, and is a member of the Executive Board this year.

Betty Gooden, of Perry, was victorious over Martha Taylor in the race for recording secretary. The two polled respectively 319 and 256 votes. Betty was dormitory manager of Terrell B in her freshman year, and vice-

HASLAM GRANTED LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Dr. Guy H. Wells, president, announced that George Haslam, assistant professor of Social Science, has been granted a leave of absence for the Spring quarter.

Mr. Haslam will leave for Dawson, Ga., next week, where he will be associated with Mr. Clem Rainey on editorial staff of the Dawson News.

During his absence Journalism 334, The Newspaper in the Modern World, will not be offered as scheduled, according to Dr. Hoy Taylor. Mr. Haslam will continue to serve as faculty advisor to both the Colonnade and the Spectrum as he is planning to spend every other week-end here in Milledgeville.

CGA Convention Plans Announced

Plans for the Constitutional Convention of CGA, which is scheduled for March 19, 20, are being formed tentatively by the old and new officers of CGA.

The convention will be initiated with a general business meeting at 7:30 Sunday night, March 19. At this time the president of the convention will be nominated and elected by the students present; the president will then take charge of the following meetings. It has been suggested that the docket for the first night will include the review of the general suggestions of change in the constitution.

Betty Boyd has asked that all students be urged to return for the convention and that they be reminded that will be all right to come back, even though they have not signed up before hand.

As follow-ups of the meetings on Sunday and Monday, meetings will be held throughout the first part of next quarter in order to give hearings on the various phases which are to be rewritten. Anyone is invited to attend these conferences, whether they have attended the convention or not.

The students who come back early will stay in Bell B, and provide for their own meals.

GSCW Strives For $1000 Red Cross Goal

With a goal of $1000 GSCW has begun the annual American Red Cross drive on the campus. Dr. Sara Nelson is head of the campaign on the campus.

The Red Cross is playing a large role in the care of soldiers in the war today. In addition to the medical attention which they give to the wounded, they have in the war program:

Delivery of packages to boys in prison camps; keeping families and boys in contact with each other in case of delayed messages; furnishing entertainment for servicemen; helping of servicemen's families in case of physical need; collection of blood plasma; requesting of leave for servicemen to come home in case of serious family illness.

Persons in dormitories are collecting the money for the drive from each student.

Exhibition Of Gifts Planned For Spring

Next quarter College Government is sponsoring an exhibition of gifts received on the campus from servicemen overseas. The display will be placed in the library for a week.

All students who have received gifts from overseas are asked to loan them to the committee in charge of the project so that they may be exhibited.

Contributors will be notified at the beginning of the quarter to whom they can turn in their gifts.

Boyd Is Named New President Of CGA

Betty Boyd, polling 412 votes to 168 for her opponent, Mary Brewton, was named president of College Government in campus-wide elections held Wednesday, March 1.

BETTY BOYD

The newly elected president, who is from Adairsville, is at present corresponding secretary of CGA and associate editor of the Corinthian. During her freshman year she held the position of class secretary. Betty is majoring in the field of mathematics and is a member of Lambda Psi Omega, the math club.

Leila Calhoun, unopposed for chairman of Upper Court, received a total of 435 votes. Janet Fowler was given 130 votes, her name written in.

Leila, who is from Claxton and Atlanta, is a social science major and is at the present time vice president of CGA. Her activities include membership in IRC, Cotillion club, Penguin club, and a position on the Corinthian staff. During her freshman year, Leila was representative to Upper Court, and formerly was news editor of the Colonnade.

Receiving 402 votes, Betty Armour was elected vice-president of CGA. Miriam Chapman polled 174 votes.

Betty, whose home is in Columbus, is a secretarial major, and vice president of the junior class.

In the race for chairman of the Junior Y committee, Nora Payne was victorious over Helen Hall by a vote of 329-174.

The newly chosen honor committee chairman is from Hartwell, and is a major in institutional management. During her freshman year, Nora was president of Freshman Y Council, and is now in Junior Y and treasurer of the junior class. She is on BSU council, and is a member of the newly petitioned Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics fraternity.

Jane Holland received 568 votes for recording secretary. She was unopposed.

Plans For New Year Discussed By CGA

Spring Retreat of CGA was held in Nesbit Woods with the old and new members of council and faculty advisers present. Included in the program were:

Reports of the out-going officers on Student Council, Upper Court, Board of House Presidents, and Honor Committee; discussion of year's work and suggestions for the coming year, report of tentative plans for coming year from new officers.

In her plans for the year, Betty Boyd, CGA president, expressed her desire to cooperate with students and faculty, furtherment of achievements now attained in student government.

"The main thing is to extend honor system to all phases of campus life," stated Nora Payne in regard to the plans for the future of Honor Committee.

Betty Armour said that she hoped that the necessity of rehabilitation of the students in cases of offenses will be realized in the coming year.

Court hopes to change the set of rules in dealing out punitive measures of the same kind on all occasions, emphasized Leila Calhoun.

Standing committees which were appointed were:

Student handbook, Jo Hunt and Leila Calhoun; War activities, Mary Brewton; Art Appreciation, Elizabeth Shreve; Campus Court-tesies, Minniebel Powell and Betty Armour; Scholarship, Annette Hodges; CGA Scrapbook, Becky Wall.

TOWN GIRLS TO SPEND HOLIDAYS AT LAUREL

Several members of the Town Girls' Club are planning to spend few days of Spring Holidays at Lake Laurel. Mrs. Elizabeth Odum will be chaperone.

Hollingsworth Elected To Presidency Of Y; Cleveland, Vice-President

In the recent YWCA elections Eugenia Hollingsworth, of Climax, was elected president. The votes were distributed as follows: Eugenia Hollingsworth, 386; Jane Harrell, 198.

Eugenia has been a member of Wesley Foundation Council, Home Economics club, International Relations club, Y Cabinet, and junior representative on the Civilian Morale Committee.

Betty Cleveland, of Elberton, defeated Virginia Olsen for the office of first vice president by a margin of 302 to 288.

Betty is the sophomore representative to the executive committee of A Capella Choir. She has been vice president of the Citizenship Club, vice-president of Bell B dormitory, program chairman for Sophomore Y, and a member of Allegro club.

Laura Jean Trapnell of Columbus, was unopposed for the office of second vice president, and was elected with 573 votes.

Laura Jean is a member of the Cotillion club, Y Cabinet, and was an officer of her freshman and sophomore classes.

Marian Bessant, of Warwick, was elected secretary with 584 votes.

Marian is a member of International Relations club, Geography club, Folk club, and Wesley Foundation Council.

EUGENIA HOLLINGSWORTH

Mary Godbee, of Millen, was elected treasurer with 582 votes.

Mary is a freshman and has taken an active part in Y and the Baptist Student Union.

Rotarians Conference Scheduled Mar. 16-17

The annual Rotary conference of the 165th District, which includes all of the state of Georgia, will be held on the GSCW campus March 16-17. About 350 guests are expected for the conference.

Mr. William A. Watt, District Governor, and his Council preside. Beeson Hall will be headquarters for the conference and all meetings will be held in Peabody auditorium.

There will be representatives from 55 Rotary clubs throughout the state. They will be housed in Bell and Terrell Halls, and if necessary other dormitories will be used.

HAVE YOU A PET GRIEVANCE? WHAT ABOUT THIS CONVENTION?

Why are we as students planning a convention to re-write our Constitution of College Government Association? What is it about the present one which is unsuitable in using as a standard for the girls here now and those to follow them? What measures and revisions will be satisfactory to the needs and rights of the majority?

When we solve these three questions satisfactorily and when we pursue the answers thoroughly, we should have removed any of the pet peeves which we grumble about. With our enrollment lowered, this is the logical time to inaugurate new plans for self-government on the campus.

Students there is not a one of us, who does not have some part in revising our college government if we want it changed. Will we be there to say what we want said when the time comes?

"I hope the rules of that place slacken up before we start going out with girls."

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE, SHE WAS KNOWN AS—

By MARY BREWTON

The best political platform of the year received the least publicity, but it's better now than never, so lend an eye. Those of you who gazed about will recognize it as the platform of "The People's Choice," for president, Anne Tinsley; vice-president, Anne Van Atta, chairman of judiciary, Kate McKemie; chairman of honor, Rebecca Faust; and treasurer, Charmet Osborne.

Ladies, The Platform—

"I elected we stand for:

1. Lights all night.
2. Dates any time, anybody, anywhere.
3. Come and go as you please, no signing in or out.
4. Maids to clean all rooms, iron all clothes, empty all weed pots.
5. Free cigarets, cigars, chewing tobacco.
6. Kilpatrick's rules of no exams.
7. No penalties for anything.
8. Free tips home when you want to go.
9. Unlimited cuts.

The World This Week

By JO HUNT

After a week of comparative quiet on the Anzio beachhead, the heaviest artillery fire in ten days broke out, and tank-led German troops attacked the Allied line in several sectors. British troops captured two Nazi strongpoints Southwest of the German-held days of sharp fighting. Toward the end of the week Allied troops were holding out against what appeared to be the third major village of Carroceto after two efforts to drive them out.

In the Pacific area it was announced Monday that the Allies had scored their first major victory in Burma with the destruction of a task force of 8,000 Japanese in two weeks of fighting in the jungles of Arakan. This force had set out to isolate and destroy two Indian divisions, thus opening the way for a "sweeping advance into India."

The Red Army launched a battle for Pskov, sweeping in from three directions on this key stronghold in the German defenses.

Meet The Girls—

By BEE MCCORMACK

She's five feet five, has dark brown hair and very changeable eyes. Grey, hazel, or most any shade would suit. She hails from Macon and Forsyth, but at present is making her home Terrell Proper.

She counts among her likes: long hair (she's just done a scissors act on her own), tall men who smoke pipes, odd shades of red, crazy freshmen, unpredictable people, Texas, Ronald Reagan, the Commander Officer of the WAVES, and Barnaby in the funnies.

It's nix, though, on Charles Laughton, sleeping at night, hill-billy music, L'il Abner, people who worry about poundage, any shade of yellow, and two-faced people.

Maybe you've already guessed. But just for the books, she's Dot Major, a fresh, and a gal you oughta know.

Her weight's no secret—she's the scales at 127. Her hair is golden brown, she stands five feet four and a half, her eyes are dark brown, and best of all, she's got a personality to boot.

She calls Graymont, Georgia, home, but Terrell B is doing a substitute job on the home front now.

You can count her in when it comes to: fried chicken, sports, "argy girls, Frank Sinatra, GSCW, tall blonde men, sincere friends, well-rounded people, Blondie, the color red, Shoo Shoo Baby, and dogs.

Number among her dislikes, however: bookworms, snakes, Maggie and Jiggs, insincerity and treasy clothes.

Don'tcha wanna meet — Betty Brison?

She's a pretty little blonde, stands five, three and a half, counts a total of 106 well distributed pounds, has brown eyes, fair skin, and a contagious laugh. Her home is in Waycross, she's a sophomore, and most of the time you'll find her in 908 Bell B.

She has an admitted yen for: "rod Florida, petty officers, mail, "ob Hope, Waycross, little mayon cups, John "Whitcomb," shopping

'Army Brat' Gives Inside Story Of Life That Army Offsprings Live And Love

By HAZEL SMITH

Girls, for first hand information on the Army, you need to read a book written by a person who is on the inside. "Army Brat" by Tommy Wade, really gives you the dope.

on the Baltic front. By the end of the week they were 15 miles inside Estonia along a 22 mile front.

The Argentine government announced March 1 that it had quelled a revolt by an army officer and his regiment seeking to remove General Edelmiro J. Farrell from the presidency which he assumed last week in a coup led by the country's strongly nationalistic elements. This attempt to replace General Ramirez, who was forced to give up the presidency, ended in the arrest of the rebelling army officer.

Here at home the president ordered an immediate review of all occupational deferments, and a sharply accelerated draft rate appeared in prospect.

Big Jim Turner, army officer, and his wife, Jeanie, have a son while they are in the Philippines, who is called Little Jim. At the age of four Little Jim loses his mother and her new baby. The grief of Big Jim over the loss of his young wife will prove that sorrow comes to the happiest people.

Perhaps the most interesting character in "Sin Jim," the Chinese cook, who always dresses Little Jim in Chinese clothes; Fort Sill, Texas, and Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, are two of the camps where Little Jim lives.

Romance for Little Jim begins when he is four, with another Army Brat, Missy Choosay (Susan). All through military school and West Point he dreams of his childhood sweetheart.

Most interesting spots in the book are secret behind Sin Jim's life; the romance of Little Jim; the various women who try to become Little Jim's mother, and the difference of the many camps he lives in.

Georgia is mentioned more than casually in this book, so go over to the rental library and find out why army kids are called "brats."

SURGICAL BANDAGE QUOTA REACHED BY BALDWIN

AND WHAT'S YOUR OPINION?

By BEE MCCORMACK

Just scouting around for some dope and ran into a little difference of opinion.

The girls questioned, in order of the answers given below, were Betty Morris, freshman; Yvonne Peters, sophomore; Sara Penn, sophomore; Jeanne McGill, senior; and Carolyn Cox, junior.

What's your favorite orchestra?

B.M.—Tommy Dorsey
S.P.—Harry James
J.M.—Sammy Kaye

What do you like most to do on a date? Careful now.

B.M.—dance
Y.P.—Eat..... fried chicken
S.P.—go dancing with a crowd
J.M.—bowling

C.C.—go juking

What's your pet superstition?

B.M.—black cats
Y.P.—wishing on a star
S.P.—Wishing on an eyelash
J.M.—Attaching a significance to clothes. You know, like not wearing a dress because you had a miserable time in it once.

C.C.—stamping grey mules

Do you have a line? Fess up, now.

B.M.—No

Y.P.—I suppose so, I think everyone does.

S.P.—But definitely

J. M.—Sorta, I guess

C.C.—Well, I use to but it's been so long since I've had a chance to string it out that it's out-moded by now.

Well, what's your opinion?

Miss Sara Frances Dial Marries Pfc. Ramsay

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Dial of Woodstock, Ga., announce the marriage of their daughter, Sara Frances, to Pfc. Robert Speer Ramsay on February 7, 1944.

Mrs. Ramsay graduated from GSCW in 1942, and is now an assistant dietitian in the Mansion dining hall.

Mr. Ramsay, of Carrollton, is now stationed with the U. S. Army at Valley Forge, Penn.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. D. Audiss, pastor of the Methodist church, at his residence here. Following a week's wedding trip, Mr. Ramsay returned to his post in Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Ramsay resumed her position at the college.

"Don't Feed The Animals" Or You Will Hear Plenty Of "Overtones"

By LAURELLE HARDMAN

Anticipating the care-worn and worried faces of those belated jesters and friends who have just battled through a thicket of term papers, book reports, and "Cry Havoc," the play production class of winter quarter rose gallantly to the occasion affording some real amusement as a reward to these haggard gals.

Art Department Rents Pictures To Students

The Art department offers to the GSCW students the opportunity to have outstanding pictures which they could not otherwise have in their rooms for the minimum fee. Seven years ago, Miss Mamie Padgett and her Art Appreciation class began framing the prints in the department; now over 30 prints are available for use. To rent one of these pictures for a quarter, students should see Miss Padgett and pay the 25 cent fee. A year after this plan was adopted on this campus, Columbia University installed one very similar on that campus.

They chose as they program two plays that studied people—the animal instinct in them.

"Don't Feed the Animals," presented last Thursday night, told of Jimmie, who fell asleep, as did Rip Van Winkle, and awakened to find himself the last man on earth, as did not Rip Van Winkle. The ensuing battle among the poor remaining women was well worth noting—and Jimmie happily basked in his popularity until he awoke from his dream.

Graciously declining all requests to run their plays on Broadway, and yielding to the demand for "More," the troupes (not military, either) presented on Friday morning, "Overtones," a subtle contrast between cats and canaries.

Above the verbal clawing and scratching of feline Hetty and Maggie, Harriet and Margaret, their "cultured" selves, sang compliments and flatteries to each other across the perennial tea-table.

The class is closing its "season" with the two comedies. Due to an overflowing box office, "Don't Feed the Animals" was chosen from the two to go on the road (to Macon) next quarter and furnish entertainment for wounded men just returned from overseas.

Perry Saito—American—Wants To Help Reinstate 'Americans With Jap Faces'

By HAZEL SMITH

Perry Saito—American. Yes, that's what he is. Perry Saito, with a Japanese face, whose mother, brother and sister are in a Relocation Center in Idaho, brought a message to our campus. He brought a message which we all needed to hear and do something about.

A CAPELLA SINGS IN ATLANTA AREA

The A Capella Choir accompanied by Mr. Max Noah and Mrs. Harrison spent last week in Atlanta, where they gave six concerts for various organizations.

Saturday night they sang at Fort McPherson; Sunday morning, First Baptist Church at College Park; Sunday afternoon, Lawson General Hospital; Sunday night, First Methodist church in Decatur.

Monday morning, Russell High at East Point; and then for the Atlanta Rotary Club at the Ansley Hotel.

They returned to the campus Monday night.

Perry as he begged to be called, is a young Methodist minister. He was born in Oregon and educated in Washington. He, along with 100,000 other Americans of Japanese descent, were uprooted at the outbreak of war, and have been transplanted unhappily to the deserts of the Middle West. Investigated by the Army, Navy, and Federal Bureau of Investigation, he was found to be a "loyal, patriotic American," and given a job by the government to help relocate his fellow men.

He understands why people resent his looking like a Japanese, but wishes they "wouldn't blame him for Pearl Harbor!"

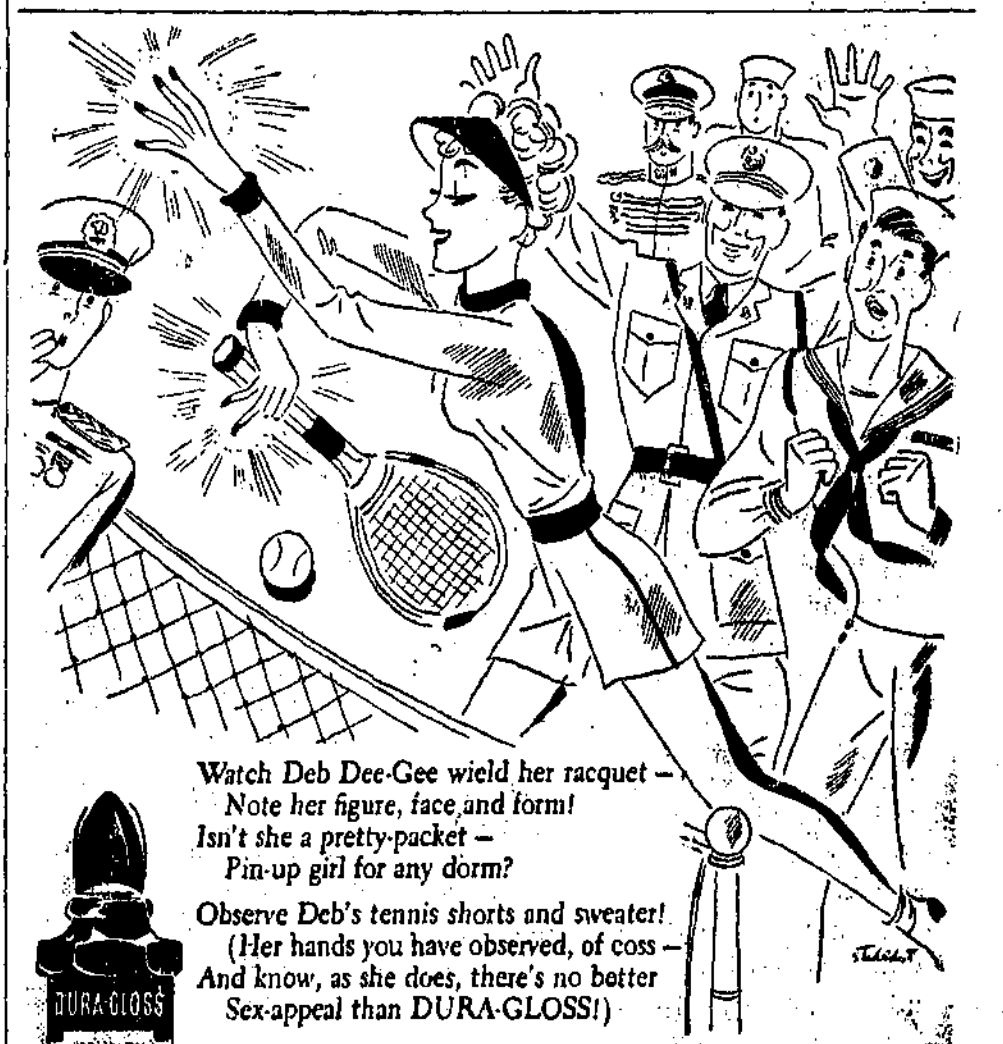

This is Perry's first visit South, and he frankly admits he would like to return, especially to Milledgeville, and stay longer. He takes good-natured cracks about pronunciation and teases about "you all," but he says the scenery "is fine!"

Those who were around Perry much will agree that his personality is one of ever changing facets. He is devoted in his religion, provocative, humble and a keen sense of friendship. He didn't meet a stranger, and says he is helping America to understand Americans with Japanese faces. Being out of the Relocation Center only since May, he knows his people are happy but uncomplaining.

About his future—he will enter Yale University soon to continue his study for the ministry. And, girls—he's engaged.

JESSIES JIVE

By HELEN MATTHEWS, ET CETERA

Little Commencement at Georgia found the following of our Jessies really hep to the jive: Doris Baccus, Lola "Mrs. George" Williams, Dot Pollard, Doris Phillips, and Carolyn Preston.

The refugee ball really brought forth results, or should I say Mercer. Charlotte Davis is already receiving long distance calls and even more important—personal visitations.

Terrell A was the scene of Mary Elizabeth Brantley's ecstasies over a telegram last Thursday. Said she, quote, "Jimmy's a pilot!"

A fan letter from Eloise Gandi, Ann Laura Rodgers, and Betty Reeves to Fred McCall, who sings over a Macon station, has brought reverse actions. The girls have received personal messages from Fred and are anticipating a visit in the near future.

Penny Nesbitt's brother found many a welcome while on campus. Those "Swedish" dates are quite typical of GSCW. Swedish? You know, Cooperatives.

Do you know them by name? Margie Hughes is really our own "Froggy." Eleanor Anne Liles is known to her friends as "Kitty." "Sonny" Hancock is really Rebbe Marie and "Coxie," when a chile was named Carolyn. "Bee" Gooden is the same person as Betty Claire and Ruth Thrasher in some way evolved to "Judy." "Shep" and "Chum" are Ruth Sheppard and Doris Thomason, respectively. Did you also know "Ikey" is Iris Dell Young and "Will" is Helen Wallace? "Sally" was named Sarah Emily Rudolph and "Freddie" Gilis was named Fredrica. "Pete" can be either Miriam Chapman or Yvonne Peters. "Kirk" can be either Edith Kirkland or Sarah Kirkland, but "Klep" refers only to Betty Armour, which can be carried even further to Elizabeth Brown Armour. Beth is short for Elizabeth Luna Books, and I don't blame her, while Frances Ridgeway is "Frankie," and Elizabeth Powell is known as "Liz."

More elections! This time for pin-up man of 702-703 Terrell B. "Pal" Marquette won with Larry Underwood runner-up. Both pictures are personal property of "Sal" Melton.

Overheard at the refugee ball from one blonde freshman of Terrell B—"I was dancing with the most divine soldier when this female wolf barged in and now I can't even find him."

Betty Bowen gets a special trip home to see that extra special friend who's home on leave.

One more handsome man in blue in 109 Terrell B—Ora Spivey's new picture of G. C. Kea. Things I like about people I like:

Helen Britt's eyes....Frances Eubanks' hair....Anne George's friendliness....Doris Council's smile....O'Neal Veatch's wit....Bertha Studdard's sweet disposition....Mildred Callahan's basketball technique....Virginia Jolley's friendliness.

And what about the engagement of Jessie faculty members?

Frosh Win Victory In Basketball Meet

By KATE MCKEMIE

The final basketball game of the class tournament was played Thursday night between the freshmen and sophomores. The final score was 25-10; the frosh being victorious. They led in score the whole game, the score being 16-3 at the end of the half. Even though the frosh led, the sophomores fought to the end.

BROWN JOINS USMC; TO REPORT FOR TRAINING

Miss Louise Spivey Brown, former student at GSCW, is now private in the Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Brown of Eatonton, Ga., Private Brown majored in Home Economics at GSCW. She has been employed recently at the Reynolds Corporation, in Macon, in defense work.

Private Brown is now awaiting orders to report to Camp Lejeune, New River, North Carolina, for her indoctrination training.

Sadie Bankston was elected vice-president. Other new officers are Isabel Murphy, secretary; Katherine Bittick, corresponding secretary; Elsie Standard, treasurer.

Sketches Of Salome Wanted By Ross, Inc.

Frank Ross Production, Inc., has announced a contest regarding the development of the best imaginative portrait sketch of Salome, dancing siren of Biblical times. This contest is for the purpose of helping to fill the role of Salome in The Robe, the movie adapted from the novel by Lloyd C. Douglas.

Suggestions to be used in the contest are:

Create a portrait of Salome made with pen and ink, charcoal, Conte crayon, wash, water colors, or oils. It should not be smaller than 8x10 inches, nor larger than 16x20 inches. The sketch should emphasize the features which made her one of the most exotic beauties in history.

The drawings should be postmarked April 1, 1944, or before. Within 10 days after the contest closes, a certified check will be mailed the winner.

For other information concerning this contest, see the editor of the Colonnade.
